This is a welcome first for MOJO® and a tremendous addition to this historic shooting sports tradition. “It is an incredible opportunity to be part of the largest shooting event of its kind. We’re thrilled to expand our reach within the shooting sports world and we proudly join The ATA in their missions of protecting, continuing, and growing the sport of trapshooting. We look forward to strengthening our relationship with this organization, Grand American participants, and its audience,” Terry Denmon, President & CEO, MOJO® Outdoors.

“We’re excited to have the opportunity to promote MOJO® and their products to our members and attendees this year. We will be using some of their labor-saving products during the Grand on several of the trap fields” added ATA Director Lynn Gipson.
